

EUROWEEK

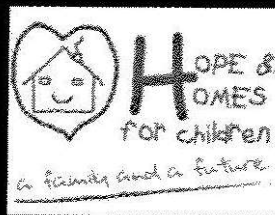

The Bond Market Dinner 2008

May 22, 2008

The Royal Courts of Justice

Official charity:

The Bond Market Dinner

The

Save the date:
May 22 2008

EuroWeek will host a spectacular gala dinner for the global bond markets on May 22, bringing together — for one night only — the world's most important issuers and capital markets bankers.

Following the enormous success of our 20 Year Anniversary Dinner in April 2007, when we celebrated two decades of the frequent issuer bond market, we are back by popular demand. However, this year the dinner will not just be for the frequent issuers but will also encompass corporate and emerging market borrowers.

Again, the black tie gala dinner will be held in the impressive Great Hall at London's stunning Royal Courts of Justice. Just like last year, it will be intimate and have a strong sense of fun, with plenty of time given to catching up with colleagues, rivals and long lost friends. The dinner will be exclusive and will bring together the top names and faces in the bond market. In short, the dinner will have you.

During the dinner we will be revealing the EuroWeek Bond Market awards — the best banks, bankers and borrowers in the Sovereign, Supranational, Agency, FIG and Corporate sectors (including Emerging Markets). During these difficult and volatile times it is experience and the ability to deliver success that really count and it is these qualities that our awards will recognise.

We will also be having key market players speaking, as well as several thought leaders to be revealed before the dinner entertainment in the spirit of superb networking and catch up with our industry.

All the awards given out at the dinner will be generated by polls — in true EuroWeek style. Panels of key market participants have been invited to vote for the various relevant categories, with borrowers voting for bank teams and individual bankers and bankers voting for funding teams and funding officials. The awards are split into three broad categories: banks and bankers; borrowers; and currency awards for banks and borrowers.

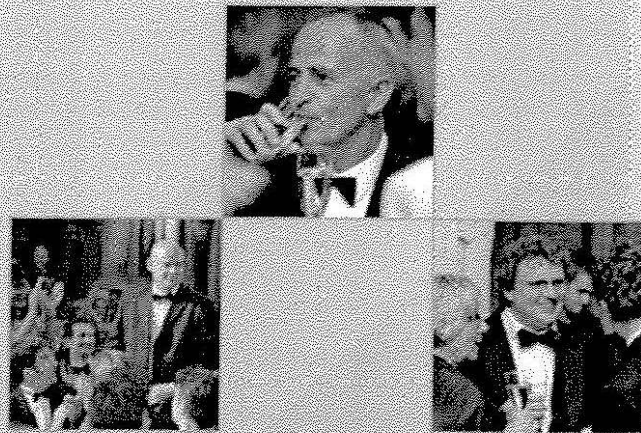

Banks and Bankers

Team and banker awards — by sector

- Most impressive high grade sovereign team
- Most impressive high grade sovereign banker
- Most impressive emerging markets team
- Most impressive emerging markets banker
- Most impressive supranational/agency team
- Most impressive supranational/agency banker
- Most impressive FIG team
- Most impressive FIG banker
- Most impressive corporate team
- Most impressive corporate banker

Awards

A panel of leading borrowers will be polled to find out who are the Most Impressive Banks and Bankers of 2008. Likewise, a panel of leading bankers will be polled to find out who are the Most Impressive Funding Teams and Funding Officials of 2008.

Borrowers

Team and funding official awards — by sector

- Most impressive high-grade sovereign funding team
- Most impressive high-grade sovereign funding official
- Most impressive emerging market funding team
- Most impressive emerging market funding official
- Most impressive supranational/agency funding team (bigger issuers*)
- Most impressive supranational/agency funding official (bigger issuers*)
- Most impressive supranational/agency funding team (smaller issuers)
- Most impressive supranational/agency funding official (smaller issuers)
- Most impressive FIG funding team
- Most impressive FIG funding official
- Most impressive corporate funding team
- Most impressive corporate funding official

Currency awards: banks and borrowers

EuroWeek will also be polling the market to find out the best banks and borrowers in each of the major capital market's currencies. These awards, using the same methodology as the product awards, however, will be revealed a week before the dinner on euroweek.com and in the weekly newspaper. But they will be available to pick up on the night and a photographer will be on hand to capture the prestigious moment.

- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in euros
- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in dollars
- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in yen
- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in Swiss francs
- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in sterling
- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in niche currencies
- Most impressive syndicate/DCM team in non-core dollars
- Most impressive issuer in euros
- Most impressive issuer in dollars
- Most impressive issuer in yen
- Most impressive issuer in Swiss francs
- Most impressive issuer in sterling
- Most impressive issuer in niche currencies
- Most impressive issuer in non-core dollars

"EuroWeek's bond market dinner in 2007 was a great event, attended by the industry's top players. We very much enjoyed the evening and are looking forward to this year's dinner."
James Garvey, chairman of investment grade financing business in Europe, the Middle East and Africa, at Goldman Sachs.

